CLAIM

"WHAT I CLAIM AS MY INVENTION IS :

THE FEDORA BOUTONIERE/CORSAGE VASE PIN HOLDER/CONTAINER

My invention is the utility of a combined unit as follows A vase which holds and covers the stem of a boutoneir or a corsage, that has a clasping pin on the back of the vase, with a round plastic insert at the top of the vase to secure the flower in the vase. Including but not limited to the attached frontal, custom designed face of several different designs for all occasions. The face of the vase can be anything from wings , to highschool logos college logos, hearts diamonds squares circles squares moons, stars, the american flag giving the utility several faces. The face can be plain or engraved and set with precious gem stones or even faces of remberance. The utility of the vase pin and plastic insert with attached custom face is unique. For it replaces an ordinary stick pin. The invention creates security for the flower it holds and gives the wearer security and a keepsake of the event it is used for."
Simple to manufacure, easy to wear and creates a jewled elagance for the flower with a symbol of the occasion. It a simple classic vase pin holder. Simply a Fedora for a boutonier or a corsage.
